The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

Greece went to war with Italy today in the face of a three-hour ultimatum demanding territorial concessions and free passage of Italian troops through the tiny kingdom. Italian bombs fell on Greek soil, killing and wounding citizens, while the Greek army of 100,000 indifferently-armed men rushed to defence posts behind the newly-strengthened Metaxas line of fortifications.

Authorities in London said the Axis aggression against Greece would bring into operation the guarantee of Greek territorial integrity offered on April 13, 1939, by the then Prime Minister, Neville Chamberlain—provided Greece resists Italy.

WARSHIPS SENT

Plans were reported being hastened to provide Greece with all aid without delay and it was believed likely that eastern Mediterranean units of the Royal Navy already were en route to Grecian waters.

Turkey was reported to have declared war on Italy, but this went unconfirmed.

USUAL PRETEXTS

Rome authorities have been drumming up "incidents" along the Albanian border ever since August, when they accused Greek citizens of beheading an Albanian bandit, Daut Hoggia, whom they called a "patriot." They claimed today that Greece was in danger of falling into British hands—the old Axis excuse for conquest.

Greek troops faced their enemies across the wild mountainous country through which on Good Friday, 1939, Queen Geraldine of Albania and her four-day-old son fled before an Italian invasion while King Zog sought vainly to organize effective resistance.

10TH VICTIM

Greece became the 10th country since September 1, 1939, to find itself the victim of Axis aggression. Germany's invasion of Poland started the second Great War September 3, 1939. Then there fell Denmark which submitted, Norway, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg and France which resisted. Rumania ousted King Carol and submitted quietly to German supervision.

Woodsworth Quits As C.C.F. Leader

WINNIPEG (CP)—J. S. Woodsworth, M.P. for Winnipeg North Centre, today offered his resignation as national president and parliamentary leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

It was referred to the national council of the party, which opened its sixth annual convention here today.

Mr. Woodsworth said he was resigning because of ill health. Addressing the convention, M. J. Coldwell, member of Parliament for Rosetown-Biggan, Sask., and national chairman of the C.C.F., appealed to the Dominion government to follow the example of the British administration, which, he said, can be trusted "to struggle valiantly until the menace of Nazi and Fascist oppression has been removed from the world."

He called on the government to conscript, in addition to manpower, all wealth and industry as had been done by the leaders of Great Britain. He urged Canadians to deliver themselves "from the delusions that money is wealth and turn to the realistic truth that all wealth is in goods."

Greek Ships Come to Empire

NEW YORK (AP)—All Greek ships in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans were instructed in a British radio broadcast picked up here this evening by the Columbia Broadcasting system to proceed to British, United States or Dutch East Indies ports.

The announcement said the Greek government have these instructions. It added that no Greek ships were to go to France or to ports in French possession.

Must End Hitlerism

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canadians were urged to realize that the future of human progress depends on the defeat of Germany and Italy in a message of greeting sent by the British Labor Party to the sixth national Co-operative Commonwealth Federation convention which opened here today.

Final Bulletins Russia to Act?

Kennedy to Speak

NEW YORK (AP)—Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, whose return from Great Britain aroused widespread speculation as to its purpose, announced this afternoon he would speak to the United States in a broadcast tomorrow night.

The envoy, who conferred with President Roosevelt last night in Washington immediately after his return by clipper plane, and then declined to discuss the conference, said he would make no other statement today.

His broadcast will be at 6 p.m. P.S.T. over the Columbia Broadcasting System. He did not announce the subject of his address.

CAIRO (AP)—Greeks in Egypt, responding to their country's general mobilization, are organizing battalions for war.

Egypt has more than 100,000 Greeks, some of them members of families which have been here the past 2,000 years but yet have retained their Greek nationality.

Hon. D. B. Mullen, Edmonton, Dies

EDMONTON (CP)—Hon. David Bertram Mullen of Edmonton, Alberta minister of agriculture, died suddenly here today of a heart attack. He was nearing his 55th birthday.

Mr. Mullen, appointed minister of agriculture in Premier William Aberhart's Social Credit cabinet in 1937, was elected to the Alberta Legislature in Edmonton's six-member constituency in 1935 and re-elected last March as the representative of Camrose riding. He succeeded W. N. Chant as minister of agriculture when Mr. Chant crossed the floor and sat as an independent M.P.P.

OAK BAY, SAANICH RENTS NOW PEGGED

OTTAWA (CP)—The War-time Prices and Trade Board today announced rents had been pegged at the levels of January 2 in McDougall and Foley Townships, adjoining Parry Sound, Ont., and in Saanich and Oak Bay, suburbs of Victoria, B.C. Rents had been pegged earlier in Parry Sound and Victoria.

Mr. Justice W. M. Martin, rentals administrator, announced that after December 31, 1940, except in the case of new or special circumstances arising after that date, no appeals from landlords in these areas against the January 2 maximum will be considered.

Today's order brings to a total of 15 the areas in Canada where rents have been pegged at last January 2 levels.

Canadian Destroyer Sunk 140 Lost, 31 Saved

(See page 13 for pictures and further details.)

Loss of the Canadian destroyer Margaree, recently acquired from the Royal Navy, with 140 officers and men, including the officer commanding, Commander Joseph W. Roy of Ottawa, in the North Atlantic in collision with a large merchant ship in the night hours of October 22, was announced by naval service headquarters at Ottawa today.

She was en route to Canada. Thirty-one men were believed to have been saved. Some survivors were rescued by the merchant ship and are en route to Canada. British Columbia suffered a greater loss than any other province.

Eighty-six of the missing men were former members of the crew of the Canadian destroyer Fraser, sunk four and a half months ago off Bordeaux, France. 13 of them being wounded in that disaster, but recovered and assigned to duty on the Margaree.

The announcement was held up for two days by naval headquarters until the next of kin of all officers and men missing and believed drowned had been notified.

The loss of the Margaree occurred in the submarine zone. Both vessels: the navy said, were traveling without lights in accordance with precautions considered necessary in such a dangerous area.

In announcing loss of the Margaree the navy did not name the large merchant vessel with which she was in collision. Neither was the second vessel involved when the Fraser went down named at that time.

The merchant vessel involved in the sinking of the Margaree was not believed to have suffered much if any damage because it was noted survivors of the warship were heading for Canada aboard her.

Prime Minister King issued a statement expressing the deepest sympathy of the Canadian people and the government to those who suffered bereavement in the sinking.

"The place of the Margaree will speedily be taken by another destroyer in the Canadian Navy," he said, "but none can take the place of the brave sailors in the hearts of their families and their comrades."

"The names of the brave officers and men who perished with their distinguished commander in the performance of their duty at sea will live in the grateful memory of their country."

The Margaree disaster is the largest single loss Canada has sustained in any of her armed forces during the war. With another individual casualty reported by the navy last night, it raised to 213 the total number of Canadian naval men reported dead and missing since hostilities began over a year ago.

This figure is greater than the combined total of casualties reported by the Canadian Active Service Force and the Royal Canadian Air Force. The C.A.S.F. casualties total 98, the R.C.A.F. 73.

Flames Sweep Skoda

LONDON (CP)—Pilots who took part in the raid on the Skoda armament works in Czechoslovakia last night told this evening how they spent more than an hour searching for the great factory before they located its silhouette against the snow-covered ground.

"Pierce fires and explosions" followed the bombing, the Air Ministry news service said. "The fires were seen to be increasing in size and new outbreaks were gaining hold" as the British planes flew away, it added.

CANADA FIGHTS FOR GREEK FREEDOM

OTTAWA (CP) — Text of a statement issued by Prime Minister Mackenzie King today on the Italian attack on Greece follows:

The news of the wanton and unprovoked attack by Italy on Greece has been received by Canada with indignation but without surprise. After the all too familiar preliminaries of outrageous demands, false accusations, and fomented or invented incidents on the frontiers, the Italian dictator has launched an attack against the oldest citadel of human freedom.

The assault has not been provoked by any act of the defender. It is due solely to the capacity of the Axis powers. The modern usurpers of the ancient civilization of Rome whose proud boast it was that she made war only against the strong and the overbearing, have once more, directed their power against a small and unoffending state.

The cause of Greek freedom has, for over 100 years, attracted the chivalrous interest of the English-speaking world. On many critical occasions it has been supported by the moral and material might of Great Britain.

In the present crisis, with loyalty not only to ancient friendships, but also to the cause of human freedom which is so closely associated in the minds of free men with the magic word "Greece," the nations of the British Commonwealth will gladly accord whatever assistance may be within their power.

The cause of Canada and her Allies is honored by the addition of the restoration of Greek freedom to the objects for which we shall fight until victory is achieved.

British Navy Engages Italians Occupy Crete as Greeks Battle Invaders

BELGRADE (AP) — Stubborn Greek resistance against Italy was reported by neutral military sources tonight.

Neutral attaches said the Italian invasion showed a lack of striking power, indicating that Rome had expected Greece to submit without a fight to the Italian ultimatum.

The Greek port of Salonika on the Aegean Sea was believed to be the Italian goal.

ATHENS (AP) — The British fleet came to the aid of invaded Greece today in the first day of their war with Italy and, informed sources said, took over the strategic island of Crete, while Greek's little army fought the Italians all along the northern frontier.

British warships also were reported to have engaged Italian naval units in a stiff battle off Corfu, Ionian island just opposite the junction of the Albanian and Greek frontiers, and to have occupied a small island with an airdrome nearby.

Crete, reported being occupied by landing parties from other British warships, lies in the eastern Mediterranean southeast of the Greek mainland.

Still other reports, these from reliable neutral sources and not officially confirmed, said Turkish troops, responding to Greek's call for help, were marching to Thrace and eastern Greece.

(Reuters news agency quoted the Ankara radio today as saying Greece's fleet was being assembled in the harbor of Salonika.)

Metaxas Talks With Head of Turks

Some 12 hours after the Italians had attacked by land and air, the government issued this communique:

Premier Metaxas conferred early this morning with the British minister, who told him that Greece in her fight against Italy would have the unreserved support of England to the fullest extent. British support will be unlimited.

Metaxas also conferred with the Turkish minister to Athens and immediately afterwards communicated by telephone with the Greek minister in Ankara. The Premier later communicated by telephone with the President of the Turkish Republic, Inonu.

The conversations with the highest authority in Turkey were taken as evidence that Premier Metaxas is making every effort to bring the Turks in on his side.

Turkey and Britain have a mutual assistance pact, but the Turks are not directly bound to go to the aid of Greece.

Few Casualties From Bombs

LONDON (CP) — German planes were reported over the west of England, the Industrial Midlands, the east coast and south Wales in daylight raids today.

Lunchtime throngs in London were given a brief air raid alert, second of the day.

Bombers stabbed at London in the first grey light of dawn, only a short time after the all-clear had ended the 51st consecutive series of night raids on the British capital. The first daylight alarm was brief, however.

HITLER, MUSSOLINI TALK AT FLORENCE

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Hitler and Mussolini conferred nearly three hours today in the first session of a meeting staged as Italy took what were claimed to be "urgent measures required to face the danger of the situation" in Greece.

Hitler presumably came to inform Mussolini of his talks with Laval, Marshal Petain, chief of the Vichy regime, and dictator Franco of Spain, observers said.

It was the second meeting of the Axis chiefs within the month. They met at the Brenner Pass October 4 in a conference at which unofficial circles reported they agreed on a showdown with Greece as well as negotiations for a peace settlement with France.

Dictators Talk On Anniversary

The conversation took place in the medieval battlements of the Palazzo Vecchio on the 18th anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome, which put Mussolini in power in Italy.

Mussolini's train arrived in Florence about 10.40 a.m. His foreign minister, Ciano, had arrived earlier.

Hitler's train arrived about 20 minutes later.

The two Axis leaders began their session at 11.30 a.m. and

NEW WAR THEATRE—Border region where Greeks are fighting Italian invaders.

The Greeks elected to fight rather than bow to Italian demands for Greek territory and free passage for Italian troops.

Six Raid Alarms In Greek Capital

By early afternoon Athens had had six raid alarms and Italian bombers had passed over the ancient capital four times. But no bombs were dropped here.

The Athens airport, 12 miles away, and the port, about four miles from the city, were raided.

The Greeks said one hangar was damaged slightly. Port facilities and buildings also were damaged by 18 planes at Patras, the port, with 4 killed and 17 injured.

While Athens' anti-aircraft guns barked spasmodically, the people of the capital marched either toward the front or in enthusiastic parades in the streets.

Crowds Tear Down Italian Flags

Immediately after the announcement that the nation was at war, crowds destroyed the offices of the Italian air and steamship lines and ripped down Italian flags. They marched past the Italian legation, but did not harm it.

Police rounded up all Italians and Germans in the country, and put them in jail. Martial law was enforced.

All the street demonstrators carried both Greek and Turkish flags, for the Greeks confidently believed the Turks will help them. A few British flags were seen.

There was little news from the front, beyond the statement that Greek troops were fighting all along the Albanian frontier. The government said two Italian bombers had been shot down "somewhere in Greece."

From early morning, a constant stream of trucks, loaded with newly mobilized troops, headed north.

The men called up under general mobilization orders are all between the ages of 20 and 43. Youths under 20 and men over the limit were wearing arm bands of the air defence corps. They will back out Athens tonight.

Italian motorized units thrust across the mountainous Greek-Italian frontier at 5.30 a.m. (7.30 p.m. P.S.T. Sunday)—half an hour before the expiration of an Italian ultimatum, a Greek communique said.

By noon Athens had undergone two air raid alarms and in the second anti-aircraft batteries emerged at 1.50 p.m. for luncheon with their foreign ministers, Ribbentrop and Ciano, and others.

A second conference was expected to begin about 4 p.m.

Hitler Advised
By Keitel

Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, accompanied Hitler.

Political circles thought Hitler and Mussolini might discuss terms for a separate peace for France. Usually well-informed sources thought Vice-Premier Laval of the Vichy regime might yet come to Italy to join the conference.

Hitler Returns
From Conference

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Hitler left for Germany with his staff aboard a special train at 6.20 p.m. (8.20 a.m. P.S.T.) tonight after conferring with Mussolini.

GREEKS THRUST ITALIANS BACK

LONDON (CP) — Reuters news agency reported tonight from Athens that Greek troops had broken through Italian positions at one place and driven eight miles into Albania.

went into action when two Italian planes were seen high over the ancient city. The Corinth and Tatoi airdromes, 12 miles from Athens, were bombed.

(Reports from Belgrade said Italian planes also bombed the 2,500-year-old port of Piraeus, four miles south of Athens. Other planes were said to be supporting Italian land drives at Florina and Kastoria, on the Greek border south of Albania.)

Greece, hurling her manpower and resources into the struggle, flatly rejected demands which Premier Metaxas said constituted "a declaration of war."

Full mobilization was ordered immediately for the army and then "political mobilization" was decreed, placing all business and industry under government control.

Not even the air raid alarms kept crowds out of the Athens streets, where demonstrators cheered, waved Greek, British and Turkish flags and shouted "Down with Italy."

Greek King Gives Message to Nation

King George II called on his nation to "fight for its hearth to final victory" and declared "we have been compelled to go to war against an Italy coveting Greece's independence."

The King's message came only a few minutes after Premier Metaxas had rejected the demands of a three-hour Italian ultimatum expiring at 6 a.m. (8 p.m. P.S.T. Sunday).

Almost as soon as the Italian ultimatum was handed to Metaxas, giving him a scant three hours for the decision which meant war or unresisting occupation, full mobilization of Greek manpower was ordered.

Her army already was estimated as upwards of 100,000 because class after class has been called to the colors in the past several months as Axis threats have increased and war clouds have darkened over the Balkans.

Metaxas Line
Manned By Troops

Greek guns and soldiers were in place in Metaxas Line, the defence system Greece's strong man had built along the northwestern frontier after Italy first took over little Albania.

There was no immediate disclosure of the exact terms in the rejected ultimatum.

Earlier Italy had been represented as wanting "for Albania" slices of Greek territory along the Albanian frontier.

The Italian ultimatum was delivered little more than 24 hours after a new series of "incidents" along the Albanian frontier was charged by Italy—an alleged outbreak of shooting which Italians blamed on Greeks they claimed had penetrated Albanian territory Friday night and Saturday morning.

Two Greek communiques officially denied any Greek connection with the shooting and suggested that roving Albanian bands were to blame.

Greece has denied equally firmly Italian-backed Albanian charges of Greek disorders along the frontier, of mistreatment of Albanians in Greece, of inciting Albanians to revolt, and of any responsibility for the beheading of the Albanian "patriot," Daut Hoggia, last August.

Nazis Say Europe
Being Cleared Up

BERLIN (AP) — Informed circles today classified the Italian-Greek conflict as another step in the Axis program "to clear up Europe" and attempt to put Italy and Germany in the drivers' seat. Official comment, however, was lacking.

One authorized spokesman, nevertheless, said that Greece and Turkey were two countries on the continent which had not greeted the Axis scheme of life with enthusiasm.

Turkish Cabinet
In Emergency Session

BELGRADE (AP) — Diplomatic circles heard unconfirmed reports today that Turkey had declared war on Italy, following the Italian invasion of Greece, but the Turkish legation said it had no knowledge of such action. It said, however, it had received word that the Turkish cabinet had been summoned for an emergency meeting.

Jugoslav Ministry
Moves Troops

BELGRADE (AP) — Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic arrived in Belgrade by plane from Entebbe today and called an emergency meeting of the Yugoslavian cabinet.

The Croat leader and vice-premier, Vladimir Macek, was reported to be speeding toward the capital from Zagreb aboard a special train.

Shortly before 11 a.m. fully armed and equipped Yugoslav troops marched through the capital's streets toward the railroad station. There was no official confirmation of a report that the army had issued a general mobilization order.

Three enemy bombers were destroyed during the night.

"Further information now shows that only eight of our fighters were lost yesterday. Four of our pilots are safe."

URGES ARMY MOVES

The Daily Mail urged editorially today that British army units be moved into areas heavily and regularly hit by German bombers and to a far greater extent than elsewhere in the Empire," and said the "present unconstitutional use by the government—actuated by distrust of the people—of organs of repression as the political police and the censor's bureau is creating a situation not dissimilar to that existing in enemy Fascist countries," and urged the National C.C.F. council and its members in Parliament to gather data on individual cases and submit constant protests.

WANT HALIFAX TO GO

In a four-point resolution which concluded a discussion on foreign policy led by Harrison Brown of Comox, the conference urged dismissal of Lord Halifax, Sir Samuel Hoare and Sir Robert Craigie from public service in Britain because they had been connected with the appeasement policy.

A complete embargo against Japan was advocated and an unconditional offer of national independence for India. Finally it was urged that the Empire war policy include the infusing in the democratic cause the revolutionary impulse towards independent socialized democracy in contrast to the enslavement of all European peoples which is offered by the Fascists, this with special reference to the increased use of proved and experienced anti-Fascist allies as advisers.

Another resolution called for a 100 per cent excess profits tax

Gibraltar Able To Stand Attack

While practical military men discount the possibilities of an enemy succeeding in an assault on Gibraltar, the political situation for Britain in the west of the Mediterranean is ugly owing to the fact the new regime in Spain arose with the armed support of Germany and Italy. Dr. Bertram Thomas, authority on west Mediterranean affairs, here to address the Canadian Club, said today:

"The Spanish regime may feel its own preservation, in the light of Spain's precarious internal condition today, to be bound up with continued support from Germany and Italy. In other words, it needs their victory," he stated.

The speaker, who sought "a quiet place to write" in Morocco and was one of the last Englishmen to leave the country at outbreak of hostilities, discussed in detail the conditions in that land, the southern gateway to the Mediterranean, now feeling the pinch of the blockade. Britain's interest in that territory was purely strategic, he said, noting France, Spain and Italy, as well as Germany, harbored colonial aspirations. He traced the development of the three zones in Morocco, that dominated by France, that controlled by Spain and the international section.

While the Moors of Morocco had been pro-Ally in spirit, they were a martial people and might turn to a powerful victor, supporting their proverb, "Better kiss the hand you cannot strike-off."

Dr. Thomas spoke of the dislocation occasioned in the various parts of Morocco through the surrender of France which sent unopposed civil enemy administrators into the territory.

The new situation had caused concern over the impregnability of Gibraltar, in view of expanding Spanish territorial aspirations in North Africa, he said.

Italy, however, noted Dr. Thomas, had an axe to grind, and while she would like to see Spain on her side in the war, she would also wish to curb Spanish ambitions in that region. Claiming to be the big Mediterranean power, Italy would scarcely agree that Gibraltar and the Straits and most of Morocco should fall to Spain without some participating share for herself, he added.

duration jolted this city at 2.33 yesterday afternoon.

The shock was felt south of the city to Tacoma and as far north as Everett. No injuries and no damage, except for cracked wall plaster, had been reported today.

The tremor rattled dishes and windows, shook chimneys and in some localities was severe enough to move heavy furniture, residents reported.

The quake was only one shock, Prof. Howard A. Coombs, in charge of the University of Washington seismograph, said. The seismograph readings showed the movement lasted for a minute and a half, but only a fraction of that time was it strong enough to be felt.

Pétain Makes Cabinet Changes

VICHY (AP)—Vice-Premier Laval was named Foreign Minister of the Vichy regime today. Former Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin was made Secretary of State, attached to the presidency of the council.

Announcement of the shake-up came in a Vichy communiqué issued after an urgently-called cabinet session, which Laval left for a trip to Paris for "important discussions." It did not give the reason. He will be joined later by Gen. Charles Huntziger, Minister of War.

Earlier the vice premier had announced he would explain to the nation by radio some time today the French-German conversations which resulted in the Vichy government's agreement to a policy of collaboration with the Axis for "Peace in Europe."

Frenchmen today were forbidden to listen to British radio broadcasts in public places under penalty of confiscation of the radio.

It was believed Baudouin's duties as Secretary of State, attached to the office of Marshal Pétain, would be similar to the post of under-secretary of state attached to the presidency of the council under former French regimes.

Laval himself said, however, that Baudouin would have the ranking of full minister.

News of the Italian invasion of Greece arrived in Vichy as the cabinet went into session. There was no official comment, but the typical reaction was that France no longer has a direct interest in Balkan affairs.

598 Rescued After Big Ship Blows Up

45 Missing in Sinking of Empress of Britain

LONDON (CP)—The Empress of Britain, crack Canadian luxury liner, blew up and sank during salvage operations after a bombing attack by a lone Nazi plane Saturday which set the giant vessel on fire from bow to stern.

British warships rescued 598 of the 643 persons on board after they had abandoned the ship in lifeboats, some of which were rendered useless by fire from incendiary bombs.

The liner, which had not been on Canadian service for a year, was bombed 150 miles from Ireland. The raider disappeared and then returned to drop more bombs, including the incendiary type.

The 42,348-ton flagship of the Canadian Pacific Line was under charter to the Admiralty. Its loss was announced in a joint Admiralty-War Office communiqué today which said:

"The Admiralty and the War Office regret to announce that the S. S. Empress of Britain (42,348-ton Canadian Pacific flagship) has been lost as the result of enemy action. The Empress of Britain was attacked by enemy aircraft and set on fire and it became necessary to abandon ship. Salvage operations were commenced immediately, but while in tow the Empress of Britain subsequently blew up and sank.

"Some 598 survivors out of the total on board of 643 have already been landed by British warships. Included in this number were military families and a small number of military personnel.

"The resolute and efficient handling of the Empress of Britain's anti-aircraft defences contributed largely to the high proportion of the total complement being saved."

Built by J. Brown & Co. Ltd., at Clydebank, the vessel was completed in 1930. She was 733 feet in length and had beam of 97 feet. She did 24 knots.

The British carried the King and Queen back to England in 1939, after their visit to Canada and the United States.

The Empress was first bombed 150 miles west of Ireland on Saturday. The raider disappeared, but soon returned and dropped more bombs. A number of persons were believed to have been killed by the bombs. Survivors said the raider also machine-gunned the ship.

Women and children were among the passengers who got into lifeboats without panic. They were picked up by British warships several hours later. Some lifeboats caught fire from incendiary bombs before they could be launched.

11-Months-Old Boy Saved

The youngest passenger was 11-months-old Neville Hart. He was tied with a blanket to the back of a sailor, who slid down a 60-foot rope to a lifeboat. Safe in a port hotel with his parents and sister and brother, little Neville was not a bit excited. He was laughing and trying to cram a piece of roll into his mouth when a reporter saw him.

Capt. Charles Howard Sapworth was the commander. He was made a member of the Royal Victorian Order in June, 1939, after bringing the King and Queen back from Canada aboard the Empress.

Survivors said about 300 persons made their way to the forecastle and the last were not taken off until nearly six hours after the bombing attack. Approximately 100 who gathered in the stern were taken off more quickly.

Crew Members Made Rafts

J. P. Donovan of Southampton, a survivor, said the captain manoeuvred the ship so the forward part was clear of smoke and fire.

"Half an hour after the attack," Donovan said, "lifeboats from the starboard side came forward and soon filled up. We still had about 140 people on the forecastle and started making rafts in case no more boats came.

"One man who was in the water came up a rope to the deck and helped a sailor lower a boat which saved many lives.

"Because the fire was spreading quickly a number of boats got away with only four men in them, the idea being to get them safely afloat and then get people into them. The trouble was that four men could not row those heavy boats. A motorboat which would have towed them where they were needed most got a knock as it was being lowered and the engine wouldn't start. We finally came across a Royal Air Force officer and he managed to get the engine going.

Passengers Suffered From Smoke and Heat

"It was easy after that. I was one of the last to leave the ship Saturday afternoon between five and six hours after the attack. All these hours flames had been spreading forward and the heat and smoke were trying.

"A British flying boat came along and signalled to us that rescue ships were on the way. We cheered. British warships came up about three-quarters of an hour later. The navy was grand and soon had all of us on board."

Another member of the crew said: "The German raider machine-gunned the bridge heavily, but the machine-gunner there fought back bravely. The skipper was very cool. He stayed on the bridge until it was literally burning beneath his feet and he was on the forepart until the very end."

Foremast Described As Red Hot

A member of the last group to leave the forecastle said the "foremast was red hot and paint was falling off like strips of canvas." An engine-room officer said: "We kept the engines running about three-quarters of an hour after the attack, but smoke and fumes were so bad below that we had to wear our gasmasks as we went about our jobs. The lights were on, but we needed electric torches as well to see what we were doing."

Several members of the ship's instances the few hours of darkness left do not give workmen enough time to do the job thoroughly and consequently streets and sometimes whole areas are roped off so as to prevent the truth from leaking out."

Oil Refineries at Hanover, Magdeburg Bombed

Skoda Works Blasted by R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—A successful air raid by a "strong force of Royal Air Force bombers" on the Skoda armament works at Pilsen, in Czechoslovakia, last night was reported by the Air Ministry today.

The raid was the most distant of the R.A.F.'s widespread attacks on Germany and German-occupied countries.

Oil refineries in Germany were targets of British bombers. Six were attacked, the ministry said, two at Hamburg and others at Hanover, Ostermoor, Geisenkirchen and Magdeburg.

Among other targets the communiqué mentioned 14 German air bases, "invasion ports" along the coasts of France and Belgium, and the repeatedly attacked rail and water hubs of Germany's communication system.

Power Station At Lorrent Hit

Blenheim bombers of the coastal command, the Air Ministry's news service said, also scored a direct hit on a power station at the Nazi-occupied French naval base of Lorrent. The target was illuminated by a fire visible 35 miles away, set by a previous salvo of bombs. It was related. There was "a big blue flash" from the power station after the bombs had burst, one pilot said.

Biggest Bombs Explode in Berlin

The Air Ministry said its news service yesterday said that British bombers, flying through thick clouds, dumped the heavier calibre bombs, six carried to Berlin on the German capital Saturday night and other planes attacked at least a dozen targets in Germany and German-dominated countries.

The Air Ministry said only that its bombers "attacked an aircraft works, electric power station and freight yard in Berlin."

Its news service, elaborating on the bulletin, told, however, of a large fire started in the Brandenburg airplane engine factory in the Spandau suburb of Berlin; a heavy assault on the Roßhof power station, one of Berlin's main sources of electric supply; and salvos of high explosives falling on the Pottsdamer and Leichter railroad yards near Berlin's centre.

Returning raiders said they could see vivid white flashes at the blazing airplane engine works as they roared homeward.

London Raids Less Severe

Liverpool, Midlands Hard Hit

LONDON (CP)—The overnight air attacks on London were "much less" severe than on the previous night, the government announced today, adding that "the main attacks, which were made in the earlier hours of darkness, were on northwest England and the Midlands."

The Merseyside section of Liverpool and a Midlands town were reported to have been hardest hit. Casualties in those places, however, were said to have been "not numerous."

"In other parts of the country, the government said, damage was 'limited mainly to houses' and the casualties were at most confined to one town in northwest England, where some people were killed and others injured."

Guards Recapture 2 Escaped Nazis

CALGARY (CP)—Two German aliens who escaped from a prairie internment camp Thursday afternoon, literally walked into the arms of camp guards last night, dramatically ending an intensive four-day hunt for them.

The men, Harold Herman Lage, 31, and Richard Engel, 31, were hustled back to the camp and underwent a thorough grilling from camp officers.

Major H. P. Roche, D.A.A. and C.M.G. of Calgary Military District No. 13, in announcing the capture said they were taken at an outpost — part of the broad scheme camp authorities had laid out to deal with escapes.

The men were spotted at the post by guards, who challenged them, then took them into custody. There was no resistance.

Both men were in good condition and appeared to have been eating regularly. It was learned the men had with them two heavy mackinaw coats and caps, which had helped them withstand the cold nights.

"The capture took place as designed," said Major Roche. "The plan worked perfectly."

It is believed they will face a military tribunal on charge of escaping lawful custody.

Casualties In Midlands City

Saturday night a town in the industrial Midlands went through its most severe air raid of the war, and its casualties were greater than in any previous attack on that centre, the government announced.

In London the all-clear signal brought weary citizens out of shelters at dawn Sunday after their 50th night of attack.

A high-explosive bomb landed in one London business district, seriously damaging the offices of a printing establishment and surrounding shops. In another district, where a series of bombs demolished buildings, rescue squads worked to free people trapped underneath.

In a district on the outskirts of London about 15 incendiary bombs fell on a large hospital, causing a number of fires. More oil bombs and explosives followed, but the hospital staff and the local fire brigade brought the fires under control before much damage was done.

Patients were all in shelters, and there were no casualties. The hospital had been damaged in a previous raid.

Prevent People Viewing Damage

Damage in Berlin is much greater than the Nazis admit, the ministry said. It pointed to reported efforts of Berlin police to keep curious persons from viewing the damage.

"In the words of one informant," the report said, "gangs are put to work almost as soon as the bombs have been dropped and they do their utmost to effect repairs before daylight. In many instances the few hours of darkness left do not give workmen enough time to do the job thoroughly and consequently streets and sometimes whole areas are roped off so as to prevent the truth from leaking out."

Into the Balkans

BRAVE LITTLE GREECE HAS DECIDED
to stand up to the Axis and defend her independence. Following the customary totalitarian technique—the overdone “border incident”—Mussolini’s troops invaded her territory this morning. The government in Rome has published all the deeds of which it has chosen to find Greece guilty. They are not original. But Berlin is frank about these latest developments. A Nazi spokesman describes them as part of the axis program to “clear up Europe”—and the invaded country is placed among those states which have not greeted the axis scheme with enthusiasm.

If the two totalitarian partners hope to persuade the rest of the world that Italy’s
new move has been launched with enthusiasm, that the Italian people will now feel inclined to celebrate the beginning of the great victory which Mussolini has promised them, they will be merely whistling to keep up their courage. Not that this expansion of the active war to the Balkans will be heralded in London as a simplification of the British plan of campaign—it may add seriously to the Empire’s problems—but it furnishes new and incontrovertible proof that the men of Berlin and Rome were forced to create a substantial diversion to offset the serious defeat which Germany has suffered across the English Channel, and nonetheless to calm Italian peace of mind which Graziani’s listless campaign in Africa has disturbed.

This will be no “token war” for Italy.
Greece alone, of course, will not be able to do a great deal more than hinder the Italian advance and force the wider issue. It should produce with little delay an announcement of Turkey’s intentions. Britain’s assistance to Greece, the speed with which it is given
and the nature and effectiveness of it, naturally will be an important factor in bringing the government at Ankara to a decision. But here again, be it noted, the shadow of the Russian bear may appear. Moscow may proclaim its utter unconcern with what for the time being is implied by Italy’s new bid for Mediterranean territory and strategic bases.
Berlin may assume a similar detachment—
also for the time being. But the axis vision includes the great oil fields of Iran and Iraq.
The very mention of these prizes, however,
invites a glance at the map. Britain’s might in the Near East, her fleet in the Mediterranean, the conquest of Egypt and Turkey,
and other unpredictable considerations are instantly brought into closer focus.

Now that Italy has chosen to force a complete showdown in the Mediterranean,
for showdown it obviously will be. Mussolini cannot stop. He must conquer and occupy Greece and then launch further offensives
if he intends to have a shot at the larger goal of Italian policy. At any rate, he will now have an opportunity to give his fleet something to do; he cannot hope to make much real headway so long as the ships of the white ensign still patrol the Mediterranean.
His slogan of “Mare Nostrum” ought soon
to meet its test.

In the Line of Duty

CANADIANS WILL HAVE LEARNED
with profound regret of the sinking, in a collision with a large merchantman, of H.C.M.S. Margaree with the loss of upwards of 140 lives. This was the vessel which only a few weeks ago had replaced the ill-fated Fraser—the Canadian destroyer which did such magnificent work off Bordeaux last June. While details of this latest disaster are not yet available, it is known that Commander J. W. R. Roy—together with many Victorians—went down with his ship. Thus has this been a sad week-end for those who lost loved ones in the disaster; it has brought home to them and to all of us a new reminder that Canada’s fighting ships are playing an important and gallant role in the Empire’s war against the men who would enslave the world. Our sincere sympathy goes out to those who have been bereaved
in their country’s cause.

Nonetheless in the fighting front was the former Canadian Pacific’s Queen of the Seas—the Empress of Britain. Launched as recently as 1930, considered practically the last word in vessels of her type, known to travelers the world over, she now lies at the bottom of the Atlantic, the victim of Nazi bombs. One of the happiest associations of this proud craft was the distinction she enjoyed as she carried the King and Queen
across the Atlantic after their memorable visit to Canada and the United States last year. When the history of the war comes to be written it will be found that this Canadian ship, like the grim grey warriors which have conveyed precious cargoes over the same route ever since the war began, will be credited with an important chapter in the Commonwealth’s service.

After the Skoda Works

DISPATCHES REPORT THAT “A strong force of Royal Air Force bombers” dropped their “cards” on Czechoslovakia’s famous Skoda armaments works near Pilsen last night. As this is written, the British Air Ministry had not made public
any details as to the amount of damage caused, what opposition was encountered, or whether this important foray is the fore-runner of others of a similar character.

So far the Skoda plant does not appear to have been included in the list of military objectives which the Royal Air Force has consistently and methodically bombed during the last three months. Although this part of Nazi-dominated Europe is as far, as the airplane flies, from Britain as are both Turin and Milan in Italy, it is reasonable to suppose that so vital a production centre
would be protected with every possible device against such attacks.

The news is interesting in itself, of course, for any substantial interference with output from the great Czechoslovakian arsenal would be serious not only for Germany,
but probably for Italy, Rumania and Hungary—assuming that these countries are being strengthened from the outside on a scale at which recent reports have hinted.
It has not been forgotten, incidentally, that Czechoslovakia’s desire to defend her independence two years ago was backed by her knowledge that Skoda had supplied her with its best mechanized equipment. Hundreds of the large tanks which Germany used in her push through the Low Countries and into France were from the Pilsen plant.

A Second ‘Four-year Plan’

ALTHOUGH ADOLF HITLER WAS fully convinced he would have won the war by the end of this year—if not before—
he is told he has decreed that Marshal Hermann Goering set about a second “Four-Year Plan” adapted to the demands of war. The suggestion is that since 1936 nothing but success has attended the efforts of the Fuehrer’s
first lieutenant. And under the Nazi conception of triumph, or, in the vernacular, as far as “delivering the goods” is concerned,
plenty of visible evidence exists to prove the Hitlerian claim.

What the new decree reveals more significantly, however, is that the Nazi chief at last is convinced the brilliant and ultimate success he promised the German people can not be achieved this year, possibly not next year, or even by the time the second “Four-Year Plan” has run its course. Perhaps Hitler’s comings and goings since he met Mussolini in the Brenner Pass for the second time last October 4, and more particularly his frantic conversations with the Vichy government and with Generalissimo Francisco Franco in recent days, will have convinced
those Germans still able to think for themselves that long and dreary days are ahead
of them and their country.

What will follow the expansion of the war to Greece, possibly to Turkey as well,
must remain in the realm of speculation.
Italy may taste some temporary success, her power is vastly superior to anything her neighbor can summon, but the British Mediterranean fleet and its supporting air arms will have to be reckoned with. And although this is Il Duce’s “show” for the time being,
it will eventually impose on Germany a second front in some form, a development
she hoped to avoid until she had finished her business with Great Britain.

Worse Than Silly

THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROL
Board’s proposal that whisky be offered at cut rate prices to lure tourists to Canada
and thus build up foreign exchange is not being well received. Provincial governments, which control the retail sale, do not take kindly to the suggestion they should forego
most of their profit in order that whisky
they now sell at $5 to $6 a bottle might be sold to visitors at $2. Besides, what would the home folk say if they saw visitors thus favored in addition to the advantage Americans already have through the 10 per cent
premium on their U.S. money?

From another aspect, it is being asked whether Canada wants cheap whisky tourist traffic. Most persons think that Canadian highways are dangerous enough as it is without the added hazard of an influx of motorists loading up on bargain whisky. The Exchange Board’s proposal, as the Ottawa Citizen says, “is not only silly but uncomplimentary to our American neighbors.”

ASKING $1.25 FOR WHEAT

From Winnipeg Free Press
The attention of the many thousands of serious-minded farmers throughout western Canada is being directed to the series of “conferences” arranged by Mrs. Doris Neilson, M.P. for Battleford. The resolutions present an agrarian program for western Canada that deeply concerns everyone who believes that winning a war is the chief concern of the Canadian people.

The essence of the program is that every farmer should be paid $1.25 a bushel up to a maximum of 3,000 bushels, instead of the present 70 cents. The rest of the program hinges on that. On the present crop such a payment would mean the additional expenditure of about $225,000,000 by the federal Treasury at a time when the financial resources of this country are being already seriously strained by war demands, and at a time when it is already clear that that strain
is only beginning, that it will last a long time
and that it will get worse.

Does Mrs. Neilson and her friends believe that we should cut down on our supplies of airplanes and pilots in order to supply that extra money to western agriculture? Surely not. Their answer would be, we may presume, that there is plenty of money to go round, enough for all of us, enough for everything. But that happens not to be true.
There is not enough money to go round; and if we give it to one group, some other group must go without. There has been this year alone a 66 per cent increase in federal taxation. That increase has been accepted because the money was to be used for war purposes. Imagine what would happen in Canada if we diverted $200,000,000 of it and gave it to western agriculture.

FUTURE PATTERN

In Chicago the other day I talked to one of the wisest journalists in America, who knows his people, if anybody does. He said the meaning of the current stirring in America was quite obvious. It was the first real rustle of the future American imperialism.
And half in earnest, half in jest, he added:
“Our republic has reached the precise stage of the Roman Republic in Caesar’s time. The next stage, as then, is imperialism, American style. And you’ll find that Americans are;
underneath, the most warlike people alive.”

Everybody laughed at the old man, and he laughed too, but there was a thought there to be remembered. You get echoes of it even out in Minnesota among the Scandinavians.
You hear repeated over and over, among the better-informed people, the idea, that somehow the British Empire and the United States have got to save the world, if it is to be saved. That idea, co-operation between us and the Americans, already far advanced,
may yet prove to be the chief outcome of the present world revolution. Certainly the idea grows hourly. A year ago if you had talked of sending the “flying fortresses” to Britain
you would have been called a traitor to America. Now the newspapers say these big bombers will go overseas after the election,
and no one objects. Mr. Willkie only complains that Mr. Roosevelt isn’t helping Britain enough.

DEEPER FACTOR

In Minneapolis I talked with a veteran of the American Expeditionary Force, now one of the chief editors of the middle-west. For 20 years, he said, he had been an isolationist.
Even now, he hated the thought of another war, because he had seen enough fighting in the last one. But gloomily he admitted that the United States should have stayed in the League of Nations, should have finished the job. Somehow, sometime, he said, the job would have to be done, and it would have to be done by America and the British Empire, and they would have to see that it stayed done. In the meantime, he said, make no mistake—this part of the country is far from ready to go into the war, will not be ready unless Britain is actually threatened with defeat.

And another nationally known journalist
put it this way: “All my life I have hated most of Britain’s record. Superficially, I disagree with nearly all of it. But there is something deeper and more important here, and we know it. We can’t afford to see the British Empire go under, that’s all, because it is vital to us. We have an instinct about this that hasn’t made itself fully heard yet.
We don’t like British politics in the last 20 years, but every literate man in America is still a loyal subject of King Shakespeare.”

Among the plain people thinking is not clear, but here, as everywhere in the middlewest, you find one dominant instinct, an uneasy fatalism about the war. Everybody, whether he wants it or not, fears that America is going to be involved sooner or later.

POWER AND FURY

The old man who drove me in a taxi from
St. Paul to Minneapolis was in the last war.
His reward for fighting overseas is the job
of driving a broken-down 1935 car for $13
a week.

“I’d know anything,” he said, “I wouldn’t be doing this. But I do know one thing. I know we didn’t finish the job last time. I know we gotta stop those guys or they’ll have the whole world. And next time, boy, when this country gets mad again, we won’t let ‘em off easy. Next time we’ll do a job on ‘em.”

There is a whisper here, surely, of a power and perhaps of a fury which, once unleashed, may have strange effects in the world.

RISE

This American anger begins now to smoulder. You will see it turned shortly on the enemies within the country, on the fifth columnists, the propagandists and saboteurs.
In Washington, the Dies Committee of Congress declares that sabotage on a huge scale already is planned, and the activities of German agents are reported in detail by the newspapers. In Minneapolis, the leading theatre features a picture which shows an American hero outwitting a gang of spies, obviously German, who are plotting to destroy the government of this country. The Gallup poll reveals a sudden fierce resentment against Japan, 96 per cent of the people behind the President’s embargo on scrap iron, 90 per cent for a further embargo on gasoline, airplanes and all war materials.
America’s anger rises.

BEYOND PARTIES

America is like a strong, angry man who has just awakened and is yet confused. The election serves to confuse him more, but the election will be over soon and then America will see things more clearly. Then, perhaps,
when the politicians have ceased to shout, it will be possible to judge better the undoubted wave of feeling, of uneasiness, alarm, anger
and determination which is rolling across America today, even into this remote region.

It is something beyond all political parties and personalities. It is, you feel, the dawning of America’s inevitable destiny, the first glimmering realization among these people
that they cannot escape their place of leadership in the world. Once America had that leadership in its grasp and abandoned it, and may do that again. It is too early by far to say, but the sense of this destiny and this decision is implicit already in the long wrangling of the intellectuals, in the fear of the poor man on the street that this country is going to war eventually.

Liberty is always dangerous, but it is the safest thing we have.—Harry Emerson Fosdick.

If he does really think there is no distinction between virtue and vice, why, Sir,
when he leaves our houses let us count our spoons.—Dr. Johnson.

Parallel Thoughts

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.—John 15:7.
Love God, and he will dwell with you.
Obey God, and he will reveal to you the truth
of his deepest teachings.—Robertson.

THE REAL ISSUE

THE TWO MEN contending for
the Presidency of the United States appear to be poles apart
in the eyes of their own people.
To us they appear very much alike. As a matter of fact,
rarely in history have two candidates had so many common qualities of personality, and rarely in history have the leaders in the parties thought so much alike on world affairs. In so far as anyone can discover, it will make little, if any, difference in the American attitude toward the dictators or towards us, whether Willkie or Roosevelt is returned.

The fundamental cleavage between the two men is in their outlook on economics. Wendell Willkie believes with obvious sincerity that the old style capitalistic system is sufficient to restore and maintain real prosperity for the people of the United States.

President Roosevelt believes,
with equally obvious sincerity,
that the capitalistic system can never again discharge this function. Indeed the Roosevelt belief is the basis of the thinking of all of the New Dealers who are convinced that we have reached a stage of development in our economic life where there never will be sufficient new enterprise provided by capitalists alone to provide all of the people with employment and the whole nation
with prosperity.

I happen to share the belief of the New Dealers. It seems to me that the whole lesson of these times in the realm of economics,
is that there are insufficient new channels for investment to keep the wheels of industry turning.
For that reason it seems to me unfortunate that Wendell Willkie seems to have so little chance of being elected. For if Mr. Willkie were elected he would no doubt do most of the things that all of the old fashioned believers
in pre-war capitalism think ought to be done. If he were to succeed the world would know that

BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

From Vancouver News Herald
There has been a revival of interest in the question of Bible reading in the public schools and
as usual, proponents and opponents of the plan are expressing their views with vigor.

One side holds that the schools
should leave secular education
with a measure of spiritual instruction. It is contended that knowledge gained in the school room is likely to prove barren unless the moral aspect is stressed.
But opponents of the plan are also sincere. Their opposition is not to Bible reading, or to the teaching of moral values. They oppose the present move because they believe it would lead to denominational disputes.

The Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, has been studying this problem and analyzing the arguments surrounding it. The solution he proposes lies in treating Bible reading as an extramural activity, with the incentive
of academic credits provided to pupils.

We think all concerned would be well advised to accept the min-ister’s findings. They offer a good part of what is sought and yet they remove the objectionable features seen by those now in opposition.

unallayed capitalism

were still sufficient for its purposes, but if he failed—as I am certain he would fail—then the whole world
would get on with the job of doing something about it.

In other words, I regard the greatest of all obstacles to the restoration of genuine prosperity
the belief that the capitalistic system as it functioned in the 19th century can produce identical results in this completely changed world of the 20th century.

THINGS WILL MOVE

If Roosevelt is re-elected the foreign policies of the United States may reasonably be expected to become even more clear-cut than they are today. I am not sure that the American people will ever come into this war on the side of Britain against Hitler, but I am sure that they will give us all possible help short of actual participation in the war, and that such help may easily prove decisive in the struggle. Moreover, they may be forced to come into the actual war at any moment, for out and out hostilities between the United States and Japan would have the final effect of forcing complete military co-operation between the United States and the British Commonwealth. And the situation is such in the Far East that outright war may result not from any deliberate act by any of the governments concerned, but from some local occurrence which would have the effect of exploding either the United States or Japan into actual war.

The next four years will probably be the most crucial in American history. As the most powerful nation in the world the United States cannot escape the effects of what Hitler deliberately intends as world revolution. No one can foresee the shape of the world in 1944, but one thing I think we can foresee by 1944 the United States and the British Commonwealth will have become virtually one people.

WANT TO BUY A PYTHON?

From New York World Telegram
Before the war interfered with the supply, pythons sold by the foot. The first 10 feet ran around $5 each. Above 10, the price skyrocketed so that, then and today,
a 20-foot rock or regal python
would bring around $300. A plump 24 footer will set you back $500 to $800. In the current market a pair of giraffes should bring $7,000; a baby elephant, $2,000 to $2,500. The rarer, wilder African elephants sell for as high as $4,000 when one is to be had, but the tamer Indian elephants cost less than babies—around $1,500—
because nowadays zoos want to raise their own. South American tapires come to $1,200 a pair;
spotted leopards $500, Siberian tigers $3,000 to $4,000. A black leopard might cost $1,200 and the market price for a baby chimpanzee is around $400. For a baby gorilla you’d have to pay $3,000 to $4,000. And wait for delivery.

“LET GEORGE DO IT” HAS OUR SUPPORT
From Kamloops Sentinel

The Sentinel thoroughly agrees with a Vancouver Sun editorial entitled “Let George Do It.” The Sun wants “some unknown, unsung shipyard worker” to have the honor of launching one of Canada’s new naval craft. Says
the Sun:

“It may be refreshing to read about Right Honorable Whoist
or the wife of Senator Maindock
officially at these ceremonies
when a corvette or some other warship slides the greased ways
into the sea. But how much more appealing, how warming to the heart of 99 per cent of Canadians
it would be to hear that Joe Spivak from Lulu Island had put on his Sunday best to come in and do the job.”

And so say we. This is not the war of the “stuffed shirt,” but the war of the people. The mechanic and the laborer are fighting the good fight, even though on the home front. What better way of telling the world than by ending the “pink-tea” ceremonials, by letting the workmen who build the warcraft pull the launching trigger.

That’s socialism, you say? No,
it’s democracy.

BOOKS FOR THE CONVOYS

From New York Times

An appeal for books for the use of sailors on the Canada England
convoy run has been made by the British Sailors Book and Relief Society.

The most able-bodied seaman is congenitally type-hungry. But when a convoy numbers in its train as many as 100 ships of Dutch, Belgian, Norwegian, French and Danish origin, the full problem of quenching this polyglot thirst becomes evident.

Each month the society sends a ton of words to Halifax for distribution among the ships. However, there is a comparative scarcity of foreign language publications, especially Norwegian,
so the society is combing the pastures of private browsers for contributions.

THEN CAME MAN!

perts’ estimates, about 1,200,000

ning midnight. Call the interval with 1940 representing high noon.

On that time basis, it wasn’t until after 8 a.m. that the first vertebrates (backbone animals)
came into existence, not until 9.30
that the dinosaurs showed up,
not until 10.45 a.m. that the birds
came . . . and not until 11.58 a.m.
that prehistoric man arrived on the scene.

It was only a tenth of a second

Lord Mayor's Fund

The Victoria Girls' Drill Team have added to the large sum contributed by them for war relief by forwarding a cheque of $60.13 to the city treasurer to swell the city's Lord Mayor's fund. This amount was realized from the dance staged recently by the team.

This group of young ladies has been responsible for the raising of $200 for war relief and cigarettes for the troops in the last month, giving eight public appearances for publicity for the city and other worthy causes.

Those in charge at the dance were Misses Flossie Hughes, Joan Cromack, Gladys Cook, Beryl Drew, Joyce Stocker and Ethel Speller.

GREAT INCREASE IN HOSPITAL USE

Care of patients from the three services during last month contributed largely to the exceptional increase in the number of patient days recorded during that period in comparison with the same month last year, directors of the Royal Jubilee were informed at their regular meeting in the Nurses' Home Friday night.

The increase averaged 63 patients per day, the number of cases being 240 more for the entire month than for the same period last year.

A report on building activity showed satisfactory progress on new construction at the hospital. Emphasis was given to the fact the maternity wing of the new building would greatly increase accommodation for that type of patient.

Nine tons of ice were manufactured and used during September, it was reported.

Credit Union Grows

Increased membership in the Victoria Provincial Government Employees' Credit Union was reported at a meeting in the civil service clubrooms Friday with the president, C. F. Banfield, in the chair. The treasurer reported members were taking advantage of the opportunity of securing loans at the low interest available. The resignation of George B. Ford from the office of chairman of the supervisory committee, due to his enlistment in the army, was accepted with regret and R. Donald Smith was appointed to succeed him.

W. A. Macdonald, Miss M. Ferris and Mr. Axhorn were elected to complete the educational committee.

During the evening P. J. Mulcahy and Mrs. J. J. O'Brien spoke briefly.

J. M. Thomas, principal of Mount View High School, and chairman of the Consumers' Co-operative Association, pointed out that co-operative movements and credit unions were psychologically the same in that they both had as their aim working for the common good.

Co-operation through credit unions and co-operatives would contribute to the upbuilding of the new social order which was to be.

Miss I. E. Kenworthy thanked the speaker.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Movie actor Pat O'Brien arrived here quietly last night from Victoria, where he had been holidaying, and made plans to leave for Banff, Alta., where he will spend a day. The actor plans to go direct to Toronto from Banff.

A Chinese protection committee. The organization was started in 1937 for the purpose of aiding and advising civilians in case of danger from enemy action.

Beginning with the federal government, it has been decentralized through the provincial governments, the municipalities, the municipal committees, right down to the individual, the warden, whose duty is the most important of the organization.

The sum of $225,000 has been appropriated by the Dominion government for this protection work. In answering local wardens on the scarcity of supplies and training material in Victoria, Dr. Gliddon said that the needs of the troops and the SOS of the den must get to know the people in his district, whether there are any invalids, and should know any peculiar house construction in case of emergency. First aid, to a certain extent, should be known.

Dr. Gliddon ended his talk by thanking the 400 wardens present for voluntary efforts, and asking that the work be carried on and increased. At the beginning of the meeting, organization reports were made by district wardens of different localities, including a warmly-applauded report by Joseph Hope, district warden of the newly-formed Victoria Chinese group. To be prepared for the work of aiding the civilian, the A.R.P. was

A.R.P. READY FOR WAR EMERGENCIES

The job of the A.R.P. throughout Canada is to train civilians for any emergency in any disaster pertaining to war conditions. Dr. W. L. Gliddon, federal A.R.P. officer, told the quarterly rally of Wardens Division, A.R.P., at the Chamber of Commerce hall Friday. The organization, he said, could be more truly described as a civilian protection body. Dr. Gliddon said that the Victoria branch was one of the best developed in the Dominion, and that it was the first to contain

Women's Vote Huge Factor in U.S.

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Democratic and Republican parties of the United States both swing into the home stretch of the 1940 presidential campaign without knowing which way—if any—10,000,000 or 20,000,000 women are going to jump on election day, November 5.

That means the women's vote is the big mystery in U.S. politics, just as it has been in all of the six presidential elections since 1920, when the women got the vote.

There are those in high places in both political parties who feel that women may be the nucleus of the great independent vote in American politics. Some even suggest that sweeping landlides like the swing from Hoover in 1928 to the avalanche for Roosevelt in 1936—only four years later—are possible only because the women are less party-bound than men.

ONLY HALF VOTE

There are 75,000,000 Americans of voting ages. Something less than half, or about 35,000,000, are women. Only about half the citizens over 21 actually vote, as a rule. It is generally assumed by the high commands of both parties that the same holds true for women. Fifteen million women's votes would be a sensible estimate in a fairly lively presidential campaign.

President Roosevelt has appointed women to high places in his administration. Frances Perkins is in his cabinet. Florence Allen is on the federal court of appeals bench. But he made no sex distinction in his appointments, and has similarly welcomed women into platform-making in the Democratic Party without special fanfare.

Wendell Willkie in his campaign tour showed his respect for the women's vote by addressing a huge meeting of women—not because he didn't make a habit of it. Not because he'd lose male votes if he did. But because he knows many women object to special consideration in politics.

Both candidates have stressed their liberal tendencies. Willkie by definite commitment, Roosevelt by calling attention to the New Deal social program.

CANDIDATES' WIVES

Delicate in politics is the question of wives. It is not merely by chance that both Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Willkie appear with their husbands primarily in the roles of dutiful wives in the hour of struggle. That's traditional and acceptable to all shades of voting opinion in American politics.

If, for instance, Mrs. Roosevelt took the stump, impartial opinion suggests that she might both win and lose votes for her husband, confuse issues by her mere presence on the lecture platform. That is still a precedent for the wife of some future candidate to break.

In short, the women's vote in the coming election is the mystery—and it is at least 10,000,000 votes. It is the subject of the deepest consideration among the party strategists in all camps. It has a lot to do with what the candidates say or do not say. And it will have plenty to do with the winner. It might even be the pendulum in a landslide.

CENTENNIAL Y.P.S.

Centennial Young People's Society met recently with Eleanor Brooke in the chair. Irene Birkett led the devotional period, assisted by Grace Cuthforth and Mildred Kerley. During the evening a debate on "Resolved that the father should have welcomed the prodigal son" took place, with Jean Bailey, Ruth Almond and Mildred Kerley taking the affirmative, and Sylvia Birkett and Jack Jeffries the negative. Next Tuesday a Halloween social will be held, to which several ratings of the R.C.N. have been invited.

The former president, Miss Marie Crossley of the Live Yers Club of the Y.W.C.A. was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the clubroom on Friday evening. The room was beautifully decorated in blue and pink streamers. A buffet supper was served from a daintily arranged table centred with a bowl of pink chrysanthemums with blue tapers in crystal holders, pink and blue streamers reaching from the chandelier to each corner of the table. During the evening games were enjoyed. The invited guests included the Misses M. Crossley, D. Beech, D. Spencer, E. Steele, M. Harris, G. Demers, D. Mann, E. Richards, M. Callan, I. Quagliotti, B. Robertson, M. Wilkinson, G. Donaghy, E. Huddle and E. Houghton.

In honor of Mrs. Michael Kori, nee Alverda Smith, Mrs. R. W. Hurst, 1018 Bay Street, entertained at a miscellaneous shower on Friday evening. Upon arriving the guest of honor was presented with a corsage of red and white carnations. The many useful gifts were concealed in a "Wishing Well" carried out in a color scheme of the Royal Canadian Navy. The rooms were a galaxy of autumn colored flowers and a buffet supper was served from a prettily-decorated table covered with a lace cloth and also carried out in the color scheme of the R.C.N. The invited guests included Mesdames G. Rowbottom, E. G. Rowbottom, E. Smith, M. Abernethy, J. H. Francis, J. A. Craigmyle, B. Irvine, Evelyn Holt, P. Carveth, Woods, Harrison, Corkindale, and the Misses Doreen Cox and Jeanne Dravers.

BRITONS STILL LAUGH—Observers returning from England are unanimous in praise of British morale. Here it is in action. Scene: Air raid shelter of London's Shoreditch Library in the East End. Weddings

SIMMONS-ROBINSON

With the choir, of which the bride is a member, in attendance, a pretty ceremony at First United Church on Saturday evening united in marriage Elsie Lees, eldest daughter of Mr. W. F. Robinson and the late Mrs. Robinson, Quadra Street, and Mr. Frederick Thomas Simmons, eldest son of the late Mr. T. Simmons, and Mrs. Simmons, Blenkinsop Road. Rev. Hugh A. McLeod officiated against a background of chrysanthemums. The choir sang "O Perfect Love" as the register was signed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bolero frock of imported lace over taffeta, with deep band of stiffened net inserted above the hemline. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, and she wore elbow-length mittens, and a double veil of illusion net attached to a Juliet cap of tiny orange blossom sprays on tulle. A bouquet of Ophelia roses showered with heather was carried by the bride.

Mrs. George Ross, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, in a floor-length blush rose taffeta gown appliqued with wine velvet flowers, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Mary Simmons, was bridesmaid, in a dulce blue taffeta frock, trimmed with wine velvet bows, which also adorned the ruffled novelty pockets. They both wore Juliet caps of flowers to match the frocks and carried arm bouquets of pink snapdragon and carnations mingled with mauve, heather, tied with blue and pink chiffon. Mr. Douglas Simmons was best man, and Mr. Leonard Simmons and Mr. George Ross were ushers.

The decorations in the church were the handiwork of Miss Evelyn Siddall and Miss Carol Menzies.

The reception was held in the Lake Hill Community Hall. Mrs. Robinson was assisted in welcoming the guests by the bridegroom's mother, wearing a soldier blue dress, with black accessories and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and heather. The bride and groom stood beneath an arch decorated with pink carnations and chrysanthemums. Pink rosebuds and pink tapers were arranged on the supper table, which was centred with the wedding cake, standing in folds of tulle studded with rosebuds.

Rev. Hugh A. McLeod proposed the toast to the bride. Serving refreshments were Mesdames Kenneth Simpson, Charles Burgess, Bert Taylor, Gordon Robinson, Jack Chapman and Robert Clark, all in pastel-shaded evening gowns with velvet bows on their heads in corresponding shades. Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Mrs. Charles Goodwin sang during the reception. For a motor trip on the mainland, the bride left in a Monterey rose Angora wool dress with wine accessories, a muskrat coat, a corsage bouquet of gardenias, and a brown hat and shoulder veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons will make their home at 1310 Topaz Avenue.

Among the gifts were a chest of Rogers 1847 flat silver from the staff of Yarrows Ltd., where the bride had been employed; a silver tea service from First United Church Choir, of which she is a member, and a coffee table from the Lake Hill Badminton Club, of which both are members.

JAMES-WATSON

Victoria West United Church was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, autumn foliage and berries for the wedding on Saturday evening of Irene Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Watson, 633 Belton Avenue, to Mr. Arthur Edward James, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. James, 63rd Avenue, Vancouver. Rev. C. D. Clarke officiated. Mr. A. B. Gray played the wedding music, and the choir sang the hymn, "O Father, All Creating," during the service. Mrs. Harry Youson sang "O Perfect Love" as the register was being signed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, with long sleeves, surplice neckline and a long train falling from the high waistline. Her long veil of embroidered net was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms, and the bouquet was composed of pink Sweetheart roses, white carnations and chrysanthemums, showered with heather and swainsons.

little niece, Kathleen Williams, New Westminster, was flower girl, in a Kate Greenaway frock of pink net over rose taffeta, and a floral bandeau in her hair. She carried a basket of pink rosebuds. Mr. Neville Wilmott, Vancouver, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Percy Miles, Vancouver; Mr. Russell Watson and Mr. James McEvoy.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright, 636 Belton Avenue, where mauve and pink chrysanthemums predominated in the floral decorations. The supper table was covered with a lace cloth, decorated with chrysanthemums and pink and mauve candles and centred with the cake. Mrs. Youson sang "Love's Coronation" during the reception.

Following a honeymoon trip up-island, en route to Banff and Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. James will make their home in Vancouver. The bride's going away outfit was composed of a floral net dress, a teal blue coat with a grey squirrel collar and grey accessories.

CRAIG-ANDREWS

Gleaming white slipper satin, fashioned with a draped bodice, sweetheart neckline and sleeves, which terminated in lily point over the hands, was worn by Willa Laurette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. W. Andrews, North Douglas Street, when she became the bride of Frederick William Arthur Craig, son of Mrs. Haldon Bradley of Vancouver and the late Dr. George H. Craig of Broadview, Sask., on Saturday evening. The ceremony drew a large congregation to St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt. Rev. Arthur Bischoff officiating in a setting of gold and mauve chrysanthemums and autumn foliage. Miss Dorothy Farley sang Greig's "I Love You" during the signing of the register.

Mr. Andrews gave his daughter in marriage. Her knee length veil fell from a halo edged with orange blossoms, and she wore pearls loaned by her grandmother, Mrs. W. Swire Mitchell of Oak Bay. Her bouquet was composed of Tallman roses and chrysanthemums. Miss Mattie Brand, the only bridesmaid, was in orchid mousseline-de-soie with a matching coronet and carried a sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Angus Corfield of Jordan River, V.I., was best man.

After the ceremony many guests were received at "Ingleton," Beach Drive, the home of the bride's grandmother, who was gowned in a French model in black georgette, with black wide brimmed hat, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mrs. Andrews, mother of the bride, received in a formal gown of orchid chiffon, with hat of deep violet velvet, and a corsage bouquet of roses, assisted by Mrs. Haldon Bradley of Vancouver, in blue chiffon, with hat to match, and her flowers were rosebuds.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tristram Naden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, Mrs. Simmons, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rockwell, Portland, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kidd, Cosmopolis, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Nelson, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bray and the Misses Florence and Margaret Bray, Tacoma, Wash.

Standard baskets of chrysanthemums were used in the sun-room, where the bridal couple received the felicitations of their friends, and in the other reception rooms. The buffet supper was served from a table covered with a handsome cut-work cloth, arranged with pink and white roses in silver vases and tall white tapers in silver candelabra. The bride cut the cake to the honoring of the traditional toasts. Later Mr. and Mrs. Craig left for a honeymoon in Vancouver and at Harrison Hot Springs, the bride traveling in a black and grey dressmaker suit, with black topcoat, hat and accessories. They will reside at 3840 Rowland Avenue, Victoria, on their return.

PEARCE-WILKINSON

The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Frederick Pike in St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, at 8 Saturday evening between Nora, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilkinson, 303 Niagara Street, and Private Douglas Frederick Pearce, second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pearce, 646 Langford Street. Chrysanthemums and dahlias were arranged in the church and the organist was in attendance. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore an informal frock of Queen's blue crepe with a darker blue hat trimmed with the lighter shade, and navy accessories and carried an arm bouquet of Tallman roses.

Miss Ellen Tickle, as bridesmaid, was in thistle crepe, with gold turban and accessories and her bouquet was of pink carnations and snapdragons. Mr. Robert Stewart was the best man.

Over 100 guests were entertained in the James Bay Club following the ceremony, where music and dancing was enjoyed. The bride's table was decorated with white candlesticks and tall pink tapers centred with the wedding cake, which was surrounded by rosebuds and maidenhair fern. Mrs. H. Wilkinson wore a soldier blue dress with navy accessories and Mrs. H. H. Pearce was in a raine ensemble. Both wore corsage bouquets of Tallman roses. For a brief honeymoon on the mainland, the bride left in a rose-dress of French wool with plum colored coat and accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Pearce will make their home at 1009 Southgate Street.

Pioneer Firm Moves to Larger Premises

Hickman Tye Now in Quadra Street Store

Established in 1858 and known as one of Victoria's oldest business firms, the Hickman Tye Hardware Co. Ltd., has moved to larger premises at 1211 Quadra Street, between Yates and View streets.

The history of the Hickman Tye firm dates far back to the romantic days of the development of British Columbia. During the picturesque days of the gold mining fever of "The Trail of '98," the Hickman Tye Hardware Co. Ltd. was Victoria headquarters for the purchase of such things as gold pans, and gold scales by the miners intent on making their fortunes in the Yukon.

During its 82-year career, the firm has played an important and notable role in the history of this city.

Pursuing a policy of offering only the finest quality goods on the market and of giving the public courteous and efficient service, the firm has grown to such an extent that expanding business forced a removal from 544-546 Yates Street to the larger and thoroughly up-to-date premises on Quadra Street.

Mills, mines, logging camps, ships, industrial and retail firms of all types, throughout British Columbia, have relied for years upon the Hickman Tye standard of quality in purchasing the hardware supplies necessary for their respective businesses.

The firm is owned and operated entirely by directors who are residents of Greater Victoria.

The commodious new store embraces four floors with an area of 33,000 square feet of store surface. The building follows an "L" shape, with entrances on Quadra and View streets. It has been planned with careful attention to the aim of efficiently serving the public and includes such modern appointments as semi-indirect and fluorescent lighting arrangements. For the convenience of customers the firm has provided for free automobile parking at 916 View Street, adjoining the View Street entrance to the store.

By PETE SALLAWAY

IN THE MAIL today was a note from Abe Saperstein, famous Chicago basketball promoter, and owner of the great Harlem Globetrotters, holders of the world professional championship. Saperstein has brought some of the greatest teams in the history of the sport to Victoria and local fans turned out in hundreds last season to see his Globetrotters in action. In his letter Saperstein tells of plans for the coming season.

The letter in part follows: "Noted for setting basketball styles years ahead of the game, the Harlem Globetrotters, world's champions, are credited with a new one in preparation for their big game with the College All-Stars at the Chicago Stadium November 29.

"Baseball teams go south for spring training, but the Globetrotters will be the first basketball team to head north for a siege of drilling. The great Negro quintette will be the guests of the city of Sheboygan, Wis., from November 9 to 16 and will train there daily with the Sheboygan Redskins of the National Pro League, after earlier preliminary drilling in Chicago.

"The College All-Stars are being selected by a nationwide board of sports editors and basketball writers from the pick of last year's collegiate crop.

"This year's aggregation will be by all odds the finest that has trooped the United States and Canada for 14 years, during which the strongest teams in the game have been faced. This is apparent when it is taken into consideration that all of last year's title-winning standbys are back in addition to new talent culled from the best colored performers in the country.

When the team hies to Sheboygan, such old favorites as Sonny Boswell, Babe Pressley, (Turn to Page 17, Col. 4)

Bulldogs Nose Out Students

VANCOUVER (CP)—Varsity Thunderbirds, Canadian football team, lost a Three V League game to the Vancouver Bulldogs at Varsity Stadium here Saturday when the Bulldogs broke a 7 to 7 tie in the last half minute by carrying the ball 90 yards for a touchdown.

The 12 to 7 victory was the first for Bulldogs and placed them even with the Thunderbirds, each having won one game and dropped two. Victoria Revellers have defeated both Vancouver teams and will come here Saturday to meet the Varsity squad in their third game of the current schedule.

It was a tough game for the students to lose, as they had come from behind in the last quarter with two rouge points to tie the score at 7 to 7.

With less than a minute left Gorman kicked over the Bulldogs' goal, but Smith returned the kick and the ball went out at the 20-yard line. Gorman again kicked and again Smith received the ball behind the line. His return kick was poor and Varsity blocked it at the 10-yard line.

The Thunderbirds fumbled, however, and the ball bounced loose. Jack Brandon recovered and started the marathon race toward Varsity's line. As he crossed the 50-yard line he sent a lateral pass to Jack Kinney, who went the rest of the way for a touch.

Navy Rugger Easy Winners

After movie star Pat O'Brien had given the start a Hollywood atmosphere by kicking off, Navy rugger stepped out Saturday afternoon at the Admirals Road grounds, to another the Air Force under 44 to 0 score to mark the opening of the Inter-Services Rugby League.

O'Brien, who held down the quarterback berth with the Marquette University American football squad, enjoyed himself during the afternoon, what with watching his first English rugby match, and listening to the U.S. game between Washington and California on a portable radio.

O'Brien was accompanied by Mrs. O'Brien, who is also an ardent football fan.

Appearance of the O'Briens and the smart Royal Canadian Navy band were the highlights of the afternoon. The match itself was just a good workout for the sailors.

The tars ran roughshod over the airmen but gave an interesting performance in doing so.

After building up a 13 to 0 lead in the first half, the Navy raced through for 31 points in a wild second period.

Steve Covert, former Vancouver McKeechie Cup star, was the big scorer for the Navy with four tries, two in each half. Other point getters were Lester, Sweet, Stubbs, Smith and Horne.

While fishing at Cowichan Lake yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Vic Griffin landed two coho salmon, weighing 8 and 11 pounds. The fish taken on a spinner and worm were in fine condition. The four some also landed 17 trout.

Boston Bruins Win

HERSHEY, Pa. (CP)—Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League defeated Hershey Bears, their American League farm club, 6 to 4 Saturday night in the final exhibition game here.

The Bruins left for Montreal where they will train for a week before meeting the Canadiens there in their league opener, November 3.

Salmon Derby

Frank Bellamy of Duncan and Trooper James Ganning, Cowichan Lake, carried off the major awards in the salmon derby staged Saturday and Sunday by the Cowichan Bay Coho Club.

The former landed a 17-pound fish on a Martin plug to weigh in the heaviest coho on Saturday while James hooked into an 18-pound-9 1/2-ounce specimen yesterday to take first prize. It was also caught on a Martin plug.

As a result of the derby 150 pounds of salmon were turned over to the Evacuée Canning Committee of Duncan.

J. Clyde of Victoria took the first prize for fly fishermen with a coho weighing 13 pounds 4 ounces.

In second place with a fish that weighed 12 pounds 5 ounces was Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

Other prizewinners for fish landed on plugs were as follows: C. Bull, Victoria, 18 pounds 3 ounces; C. Stabbe, Yacht Sea-Bird, Seattle, 16 pounds 8 ounces; A. B. Christopher, Vancouver, 14 pounds 7 ounces, and Mr. Duckworth, Duncan, 13 pounds 8 ounces.

Mr. Goddard of North Vancouver was the winner of the consolation prize. His fish weighed nine pounds.

An interesting point was that all the winning fish, except those landed on the fly, were hooked on Martin plugs.

Vic Lea Winner Uplands Tourney

Vic Lea was the winner of the medal round played at the Uplands Golf Club on Sunday with a gross score of 78 which his handicap of 12 reduced to a net 66. In second place was W. Allan with a gross of 77 and a net of 67.

Winnipeg Fans Honor Threlfall

WINNIPEG (CP)—Four thousand rugby fans paid tribute to coach Reg Threlfall of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers during the halftime interval of Saturday's game between Bombers and Regina Roughriders. Bombers won 23 to 1.

While the packed stands roared their approval of the coach who, since he came here in the spring of 1938, has nursed the Bombers to two western Canada titles and one Dominion championship, the executive of the Winnipeg Rugby Club, in a colorful centrefield ceremony, acknowledged his skill in handling players and presented him with a silver tea service.

Big Dean Griffing, coach and centre for the Roughriders, was not forgotten when the bouquets were handed out. Recognition of his playing and coaching prowess came in the form of a billfold.

Husky Dean voiced his appreciation, but said there "is only one thing I want out here today, and that's this football game."

The game had no bearing on the union's final standing as Bombers already had gained first place and Calgary Bronks had taken the other play-off spot in the three-team loop. Bombers ended the regular schedule with 12 points, Calgary with eight and Regina four.

The play-offs open Saturday at Calgary, with the second game of the two of three series at Winnipeg November 9 and the third, if necessary, here November 11.

Nanaimo Battles Saints To Draw; United Defeated

Locals Fold Again in Second Half

Victoria United dropped its third straight match in the Coast Football League on Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park to Vancouver North Shore, 5 to 3. At half time the locals held a 2 to 1 margin, but, as in their two previous matches, the local players fell by the wayside in the second half when the visitors put on the pressure.

Result left the United occupying the cellar position in the league all by themselves without a single point to show in three starts. It is a much different story from last season when the United set the pace the greater part of the league, only to lose the championship in the last couple of matches.

First half play Saturday saw the Victoria team work in great fashion. With the two wingers, Joe Travis on the right, and Gordie Cooper, on the left, opening up the play with brilliant runs down their respective lines, and flashing the ball into centre in great fashion, the good crowd of fans looked for a Victoria victory.

But the second half was another story. The Victoria team was simply all played out, and after North Shore deadlocked the score from a penalty, the match was terribly one-sided. The visitors ran in three goals in about as many minutes and it was all over. Victoria managed to get one more goal but it was like the final gasp of a dying fish.

QUICK GOAL.
Spectators had hardly settled in their seats when Victoria took the lead, Cooper beating goalie Rabbitt with a low shot after four minutes. Locals continued to baffle the Shores with their long passing style and at the 34-minute mark Coster headed past Rabbitt after a perfect cross by Cooper. Five minutes later Jimmy Spencer, around whom the North Shore offensive centred, beat Moss in the Victoria net with a long bouncing shot to the corner.

Fifteen minutes after the second half opened North Shore deadlocked the count from a penalty awarded when fullback Wilkinson stopped a sure goal with his hands with Moss out of his net. Spencer took the kick. Minutes later Jimmy Worswick, former Victoria star, playing centre forward for the Shores, whipped a low drive past Moss to give North Shore the lead, 3 to 2. Two minutes later Newbold sagged the hemp and a minute after Worswick added his second score.

Victoria rallied in the last few minutes, and Morgan got a goal to wind up the scoring.

In the second half, Cliff Robbins was substituted for George Leggett who suffered an injured leg. Bill Cull refereed.

REGIMENT TEAM WINS POLO GAME
Yesterday's polo match at the Willows Oval saw the 5th Canadian Motorcycle Regiment, C.A.S.F., score a hard-fought 3 to 2 victory over a team from the Victoria Polo Club.

Major H. R. Rebbitt scored two goals for the regiment team and 2nd Lieut. G. Edgelow added the third. Jerry Aitken and G. G. Bales were the scorers for the Victoria squad.

George Tyson refereed and G. T. Maurice was timekeeper and scorer.

Dominoes Win Third Straight
Dominoes had another workout at the Willows Sports Centre Saturday night before a small crowd and, at the finish, had marked up their third straight victory in the senior A men's city basketball campaign. K.V.'s were the victims by a 33 to 23 count.

Using their weight and height advantage, Dominoes grabbed off an early 10-point margin and coasted through to win. It must be said the younger and smaller K.V.'s worked hard all night but they were outclassed.

Centre Art Chapman led the Dominoes' scoring parade with 10 points and Beere hooped a like number for K.V.'s.

In preliminary games, Douglas defeated the Navy 20 to 7 in the intermediate A boys' division and young Dominoes won from the Y.M.C.A. 35 to 19 in their intermediate B boys' fixture.

Three games were played at the High School gym in the minor divisions. Chinese Students nosed out the K.V.'s 18 to 17 in the intermediate B boys' section; Young Arrows won from the Chinese 23 to 14 in a junior boys' clash, and St. Louis College swamped the Y.M.C.A. 42 to 8 in another junior boys' engagement.

Teams and scores follow:
K.V.'s—Beere (10), James (2), Inglis (3), Field, Pair (2), Barbour (2), Proctor (2), McDonald (2) and Uthas.

Four Clubs Tied for Top Place

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—The Pacific Coast Soccer League was all tied up with four of its six entries sharing top place, following a 1 to 1 draw here yesterday between Nanaimo and St. Saviours of Vancouver.

Taking one point for the draw, St. Saviours climbed to a tie for first place with Radials, St. Andrews and North Shore.

Nanaimo took the lead in the first half with a sustained attack which resulted in a score from the toe of Willie McCann. The goal was made possible by a pass from Jimmy Tantrum. Nanaimo centre-forward, who took the ball through the Saints' defence and handed it to McCann.

The Vancouver club came back in the second half for the only goal of the game to tie the score. The score came from a melee in front of the Nanaimo goal. Jack Muir of the Saints pounced on the ball as it came out of a wild scramble and boomed in a grass cutting shot that beat goalie Ernie Johnstone.

Both teams pressed hard trying for the winning goal, but the two goalies put up ironclad defences for the remainder of the game.

Nanaimo played most of the game without their captain, "Uke" Grey, who twisted his leg and finished the game from the bench.

ANOTHER TIE
VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Radials played to a 2 to 2 tie game with St. Andrews in a scheduled Pacific Coast Soccer League match at Con Jones Park Saturday.

It was the second time this season both teams have played tie games.

Canadiens Score Lone Goal Victory

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP)—A goal by rookie Johnny Quilty in the opening period gave Montreal Canadiens a 1 to 0 victory over New Haven Eagles yesterday, leaving the National Hockey League team with a record of two victories, two draws and a loss in the five pre-season games. Two former Edmonton players, Louis Trudel and Joe Benoit, both bothered by bad knees, were not dressed.

B.C. Session Will Open Tomorrow

Lieut. Governor E. W. Hamber will open the fifth, and probably the last, session of British Columbia's 19th Legislature tomorrow afternoon at 3.

His Honor will be accompanied by Lieut. Commander C. E. Donaldson, R.C.N., and Lieut. Col. V. McKenna, V.C., as aides and an honorary escort of officers in dress uniform.

The colorful ceremonials of peacetime parliaments will be missing and there will be no battery salute on the Causeway, or guard of honor.

Preparations for the opening were being completed today by Sergeant-at-Arms W. R. Webster under direction of Mr. Speaker, N. W. Whittaker, K.C. Allotment of 470 reserved seats on the floor of the House and the end galleries has been made and there will be 163 seats in the side galleries open to the public.

Opening procedure will follow time-honored custom, with the Speech from the Throne by His Honor, Manfred McGeer, the new member from Mackenzie riding will be presented and seated.

The Throne Speech debate will be commenced Wednesday, with Frank Putnam, Nelson-Creston, and Mr. McGeer moving and seconding the reply.

So far as could be learned today the Throne Speech will contain little advance indication of the legislation for the session. The government has a light program in mind, including such things as the new teachers' pension bill, minor changes in the Elections Act, possibly a moratorium on soldiers' mortgages and land agreements, a new speed law in the country and amendments to various existing laws.

Main speculation in advance of the session has been of its political repercussions in view of the possibility of an election next year. Conservative Leader R. L. Maitland's decision to call off his wartime "truce" on politics is expected to lead to some warm debates but beyond a major argument on highway policy no big issues are indicated yet.

LODGE MEMBERS ENTERTAIN TROOPS

The Odd Fellows' Hall was filled to capacity on Thursday evening when Colfax Rebekah Lodge and Columbia Lodge, I.O.O.F., entertained the troops. James Wilby acted as chairman and extended a welcome to the guests and visitors. O Canada was followed by community singing led by Corporal Clark. The artists taking part on the program were: Mrs. Allan Paver and Miss Dorothy Hudson, vocal numbers; George Finnington, Lancashire dialect; Joe Dobie, Scotch comedian; Marie Pearce, accordion solo; Joe Leatham, singing violinist; Fred and Bob, popular songs with guitar accompaniment; Misses Mary Smythe, Norma Hurry and Ethel James acted as accompanists.

At the conclusion of the program all adjourned to the dining-room, which was gaily decorated with Jack-o'-lanterns, skeletons, black cats and other Halloween motifs, and refreshments were served. Smokes were also provided for the guests. Rev. J. F. Harkman, on behalf of the troops, thanked Colfax and Columbia Lodges for their kindness shown the boys. Later, dancing was enjoyed, the music being provided by Mrs. Graves and Corporal Price. This order will entertain some of the troops again in December.

Chrysanthemum Show Being Arranged

The Victoria Horticultural Society will stage its late chrysanthemum show at the Crystal Garden next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

There will be classes for potted chrysanthemums ranging from one bloom each, to the large specimen plants having from 15 to 20 blooms.

The grounds of the show will be divided between the society and the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

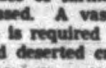

At the conclusion of the show on Saturday night an auction of plants and blooms will be held. It is suggested any friend of the Solarium or the society having surplus plants in their garden might send some in to the auction.

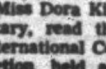

Information may be obtained from the secretary, Ald. D. D. McTavish, at 615 Broughton St.

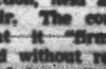

Britannia Lodge No. 216, L.O.S.A., will hold a silver tea on Tuesday at the home of Mr. C. Leash, 216 Mary Street.

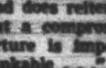

The regular meeting will be held October 28, followed by a card game.

Loss of Favorite Sailor Sons Plunges City Into Deep Sorrow

For the second time in four months Greater Victoria has been plunged into mourning. More than 30 of its favorite sailor sons went down last week aboard the Canadian destroyer Margaree.

A number of those lost had survived the sinking of H.M.C.S. Fraser and had spent many weeks in naval hospitals in England. When they reached England after their harrowing experiences off the French coast late in June, the Fraser crew said they wanted to stick together and go in a body aboard another ship. Their wish was granted, but they had only been at sea a week together when tragedy struck a second time. This time most of them lost their lives.

Most of those lost on the Margaree were well known in Victoria, having served on the Esquimalt station, although their homes were in other parts of Canada.

After the Fraser disaster they wrote friends in Victoria, telling of their experiences. None was downhearted; all said they looked forward to going to sea again.

A number of the boys in blue had been married in the last year. Two or three of them had children born to their wives in recent weeks. These youngsters will never see their fathers. Several of the wives expect to become mothers within the next few weeks.

Athletes, most of them were, starting in baseball, hockey, basketball and football during their school years and in prewar days when the navy had time for sports, they played on R.C.N. teams.

Brief sketches of the Victoria boys who lost their lives follow:

ALAN CRANE

Margaree Saw Hard Duty In China and at Narvik

H.M.C.S. Margaree, which, as H.M.S. Diana, had exciting adventures around Narvik last April, and prior to that sailed the China seas, today lies at the bottom of the North Atlantic Ocean, having last week taken down with her 140 of Canada's finest sailor sons.

She was taken over by the Canadian government from the British Admiralty to replace H.M.C.S. Fraser, lost with 45 lives during the evacuation of Bordeaux last June.

She was built in 1932 and commissioned in the Royal Canadian Navy last September 6. She had a normal complement of 145 men, but was carrying 30 more at the time of the disaster. Her maximum speed was 36 knots. She carried four 4.7 inch guns, six smaller guns and eight torpedo tubes. Her length was 317 feet, and she had a beam of 33 feet.

She was of the Defender class, which has lost the Delight and the

He has a younger brother, Hubbard, at Oak Bay High.

Missing

Thomas Morley Baker, son of Major and Mrs. H. E. Baker, 2355 Heron Street, who was one of the victims of the Margaree disaster.

Daring in action in this war. Other ships of this class are Defender, Diamond, Decoy, Dainty and Duchess.

On October 13 the Margaree was reported as having sailed from the United Kingdom. A story reporting her sailing said merely she left "for duties overseas."

The Margaree was named after a Canadian River, as are all other Canadian destroyers. The Margaree River is in Nova Scotia.

At the start of the war Canada's destroyer strength stood at seven, including the flotilla leader Assiniboine. The loss of the Fraser reduced it to six, but with the acquisition of the Margaree and six over age United States destroyers, it was raised to 13.

MAY BE REPLACED

The possibilities of Canada obtaining a replacement for the Margaree aroused speculation today, particularly after Prime Minister Mackenzie King's statement "the place of the Margaree will speedily be taken by another destroyer in the Canadian Navy."

"That can be taken to mean that Canada will replace the Margaree," a spokesman at the Prime Minister's office said in commenting on the Prime Minister's announcement.

"Canada undertakes to maintain a certain number of destroyers," he added.

Previously, there had been speculation on the statement itself—whether the Prime Minister meant another Canadian destroyer would take the Margaree's place in the line of duty, or whether another destroyer would be obtained to bring Canada's destroyer strength once more to 13.

"As yet we know nothing about the possibilities of a replacement," a navy spokesman said. "Destroyers are hard to get these days."

Premier King Expresses Grief of All Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King last night extended the deepest sympathy of the people and government of Canada to all persons bereaved through sinking in a collision October 22 of the Canadian destroyer Margaree.

Following is the text of the statement by Mr. King:

The heart of our country will be deeply stirred at the announcement by naval service headquarters of the loss on the 22nd instant of H.M.C.S. Margaree together with 140 of her officers and men among whom was the commanding officer, Cmdr. Joseph Roy.

When some four months ago, H.M.C.S. Fraser was lost near Bordeaux during operations off the coast of France, about two-thirds of her complement of officers and men were saved. The survivors of the recent disaster, so far as at present is known, numbered just over 30.

FEW CASUALTIES

Other Canadian lives have been lost in the present war among the men in Canada's defence forces on active service. They have been, for the most part, pilots and airmen of the Royal Canadian Air Force. These losses have occurred at infrequent intervals and have been fortunately few in number at any one time. In consequence, the thoughts of Canadians have dwelt, thus far, rather more upon the absence of sacrifice than upon its extent. Special significance attaches to the recent loss at sea in that it is the largest Canada has sustained in any of her forces, at one time, since the commencement of the present war.

ESCAPED BOMBS

It is a grim irony to realize that H.M.C.S. Margaree should have been lost after escaping destruction from enemy bombers while being prepared for service in the docks in London. The destroyer was commissioned in England as a unit of the Royal Canadian navy on September 6, replacing the destroyer Fraser. When the collision occurred the Margaree was in the submarine zone on her way to Halifax on her first voyage since her acquisition by the Canadian government.

TO BE REPLACED

While all Canadians will be profoundly thankful that in a year or more of war, our country has been spared casualty lists similar to those which we had in other wars. This fact of itself gives a place apart to the loss Canada's navy has sustained. The place of the Margaree will speedily be taken by another destroyer in the Canadian Navy, but none can take the place of the brave sailors in the hearts of their families and their comrades. I desire to extend to one and all so greatly bereaved the deepest sympathy of the people as well as the government of Canada. The names of the brave officers and men who perished with their distinguished commander in the performance of their duty at sea will live in the grateful memory of their country.

To Be Sentenced For Giving Secrets

Kent was arrested June 1 along with Anna Wolkoff, blonde dressmaker, daughter of a former Russian admiral. His sentence was postponed until after the trial of the Wolkoff woman, which will open tomorrow.

Childhood and Youth of Thomas Carlyle

Stories about babies often are not quite true to fact. With the passing of years a child may be told of things which he did as a baby, but the person who tells him may not remember the events just as they happened.

Whether it's true or not, here's a story about Baby Thomas Carlyle:

Up to the age of 11 months, the baby had not spoken a word, not even "dada" or "mama." Then came a day when a small boy in the house began to cry, and from the cradle came a question, "What ails wee Jack?"

Although I cannot say for sure that little Tom started his talking with a whole sentence, it might be so. Now and then an infant amazes older persons by one kind of skill or another.

Thomas Carlyle was born in Scotland 145 years ago. His father was a mason and, later in his life, a farmer. The family grew until there were nine children.

Little money was to be found in the Carlyle household. Yet the father cared enough about education to send his children to school. Tom at first studied in the village school, then was sent to a grammar school in nearby town.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: An insect, so named because its front legs are carried in the position of a person's hands held up in prayer.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—Why do I not make a hit with the girls? Other people seem to like me. Can it be because I have an ugly nose, owing to an accident I had when I was a child?

ANSWER: There is no reason for having an ugly nose in these days when any good plastic surgeon can give you a Greek profile. But don't imagine that your nose is the reason for your not being popular with the girls. For women don't set the value on personal beauty in men that men do in women.

Maybe your trouble is that you are not neat in your dress, or perhaps you talk too much about yourself, or you may patronize girls, or you may be a village cut-up. Examine yourself and see if you have not one or the other of these faults and then correct it.

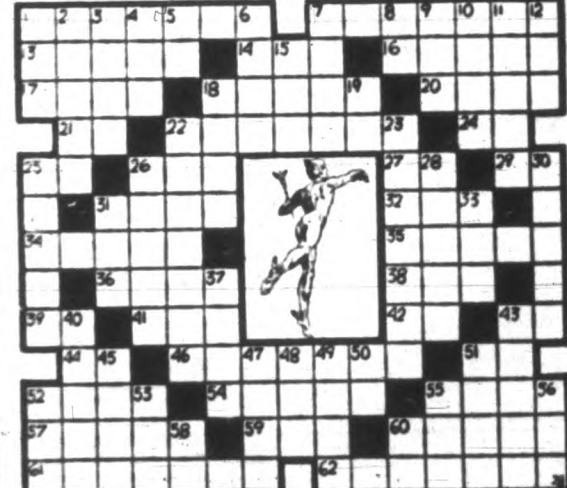

DEAR MISS DIX—Every time we entertain company or go out in a crowd my husband spends the whole time telling of his past experiences with other women. It isn't that I am jealous, but it is just so embarrassing. I have talked to him about it, but nothing that I say stops him. What should I do?

ANSWER: If you could only make your husband realize what an ass he is making of himself and how he is boring everybody he would never do it again. Can't you get some man you know to call him down good and plenty and tell him that no doubt he may have been a devil among the ladies, but that the one thing a gentleman never does is to kiss and tell?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Would you advise a couple who love children and want them but who can never have any of their own to adopt a baby? If so, where can I get information concerning how to go about it?

ANSWER: I think it a fine and beautiful thing for people whose hearts hunger after children to adopt a baby and give the poor little creature a name and a home and a father's and mother's love. In every city there are orphanages and child-finding societies where you can get all the information you wish on how to go about getting a baby.
